

At our office, we place great importance on the security and protection of the information you entrust to us.

We implement both organizational and technical measures to ensure the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of all data, in full compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and Article 32 concerning the security of processing.

All communications with our website are protected through SSL encryption, while access to our systems and files is strictly limited to authorized personnel only.

We maintain regular data backups, apply software updates, utilize reliable cloud services, and continuously train our team on information-security best practices.

Our goal is to guarantee the continuous protection of all data and to provide a secure and trustworthy experience for every partner and visitor.
